About Minus Ion (Negative Ion) Technology

Our body generates Positive Ions as we absorb Negative Ions (Minus Ions) into our system; this gives us balance. In Japan they have concluded that electricity, machinery, and human beings all compete for Minus Ions. It is believed that a low level of Minus Ion intake can cause an imbalance and may be the reason that some people have stress, nervousness and discomfort.

The composition of our Minus Ion Products attract Minus Ions to your body. Depending on your ionic balance, they may offer you relief. We are all different. Minus Ion technology is not medicine (like aspirin), but could be compared more to vitamins. Minus Ions are sometimes referred to as the "Vitamins of the Air." Our products may help you if you are not bringing enough Minus Ions into your body to create a proper balance, which can help comfort you by refreshing you inside and out..
